

A Level Business Studies Summer Task 1

To help you start thinking about the Business Studies themes and topics, I would like you to conduct your own investigation into either a business role model or into a business of your choice, one that inspires or interests you.

This task should be presented as a PowerPoint presentation of no more than 6 main content slides. Imagine we have never heard of this entrepreneur or this business.

Possible questions you might want to answer include:

- Which business or business personality/ role model inspires or interests you and why?
- What have they done in their career, give a brief history?
- How was the business started?
- Who owns the business and what does this mean for the business?
- Is the business a primary, secondary, or tertiary sector business?
- What does the business do?
- Is the business a private sector or public sector organisation?
- What is the business' mission statement and what do you think of it?
- What are the aims of the business and do you think these are realistic?
- Who are the main competitors for the business?
- How do the business differentiate themselves? Do they have a USP?
- How does the business measure its success and how successful are they?

It would be great to see a variety of responses, and not all on Richard Branson or Lord Sugar! It doesn't have to be a famous business/ business person.
